
Subject: Dreamweaver

Posted by Wayne Parham on Mon, 11 Sep 2023 21:44:20 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Remember that song from 1976? It was in heavy rotation, so you couldn't miss it back then.

I just heard that Gary Wright died on September 4th, 2023. He was 80 years old.

All these familiar-face deaths keep me out doin' stuff with my friends and family. Don't wanna miss a minute.

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver

Posted by Rusty on Tue, 12 Sep 2023 11:22:07 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Yeah. Commercial radio has a knack of running a song into the ground with constant air-play. I remember that song all too well. Another musician croaks. They're droppin like fly's it seems. Had no idea he was that old. Which for a musician is pretty good longevity.

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver

Posted by johnnycamp5 on Fri, 15 Sep 2023 22:50:51 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Bummer.

Yeah - it was always "on the radio" thats for sure.

I was just a kid, but we lived with a stereo on pretty much 24/7 back then.

I too have begun to spend every minute possible with my friends and family after noticing all these "familiar faces" passing these recent years. Keeps you aware your time is dwindling...so dont miss it...

Just went on a cruise with the Fam back in July, which id never have done years ago :lol:

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver

Posted by gofar99 on Sat, 16 Sep 2023 02:35:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi, There were a number of such songs. Some are still in the lineups for streaming and background music. I don't know if any one in particular sticks in my mind often. I have a considerable library of "oldies" and play them fairly often. Much of the music from the last decade doesn't suit me well. The comment about folks we know passing on is really relevant. If you believe the statistics at least 65% of my peers are looking at daises from a different end than I do. I too am doing traveling and such. Not exactly a bucket list thing...just for pleasure to where ever it strikes me. We were hampered by the pandemic, but not holding back now. BTW for a really laid back getaway try Gold Beach Oregon. Small town, no chain stores, restaurants or anything else. A bit on the cool side this time of year but well worth a visit. Spend a few days unwinding.

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver
Posted by Strum Drum on Sat, 07 Oct 2023 17:50:46 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Not only was Gary a talented vocalist, but he was an amazing instrumentalist as well, and doesn't get enough credit for that. I think Dream Weaver was his biggest hit, but I also really liked the songs Love is Alive and Touch and Gone.

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver
Posted by noodle on Sun, 08 Oct 2023 15:56:54 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

When I first heard the song, I thought it was spacey and didn't know what to think of it. I started liking it when I saw Wayne's World!

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sun, 08 Oct 2023 16:07:42 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have the Dreamweaver album on vinyl. It really is the right way to play the songs, "Dreamweaver" and "Love is Alive." It just feels right.

You mentioned "dreamy" songs and, I agree, "Dreamweaver" was sort of surreal. Same thing with Manfred Mann's "Blinded by the Light." That's another album that must be played on vinyl - "The Roaring Silence." The song right after "Blinded by the Light" is dreamy too.

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver
Posted by Kingfish on Sun, 29 Oct 2023 19:54:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Dreamweaver actually introduced me to that kind of music. I didn't discover Pink Floyd until The Wall came out, but I credit that song with opening my ears more, so it was easier to find Floyd-type music.

Then, when I discovered Dark Side of the Moon, it was "Game over We have a new winner."

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver

Posted by Blonk on Thu, 02 Jan 2025 18:44:53 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

noodle wrote on Sun, 08 October 2023 10:56 When I first heard the song, I thought it was spacey and didn't know what to think of it. I started liking it when I saw Wayne's World!

Wayne's World is where I heard it first. I didn't even know it was a real song until later. Not sure where next I heard it. Perhaps, it was the radio.

Subject: Re: Dreamweaver

Posted by The Noise on Tue, 11 Feb 2025 17:23:18 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Heaven really does have a helluva band, huh?

I remember where I lived when it came out, and I remember hearing it through my brother's stereo in his room while I was in the living room.
