Hi Everyone, I mentioned this a while back. Now the question is how many more will follow suit. I personally would download anything I had on the cloud and save it to CD or DVD.

The loss of Dr. Pimple Popper must surely cause emotional distress for devoted fans. But absolutely, the promise of uncluttered personal space easily, (freely?) accessed with corporate cloud storage seems to lay you open to being gouged and compromised at their discretion. Just a matter of time.
