Happy New Years to All; Here's my list of wants for the Year;Peace and Respite for those whose overwhelming loss in the Indonesian triangle is beyond measure.Opportunity to grasp and hold the possibilities for a meaningfull life for the peoples of the mideast.Universal access to competent health care for everyone.The hammer of consequence applied to those whose actions in the Sudan defy explanation or definition of human behaviour.The spirit of compassion that; expressed in the aid and comfort offered to those impacted by events beyond their control, settles over chaos and confusion like a cooling breeze.And that in our own nation the diviseness and discord fomented by the pursuit of power and advantage be healed by the forces of genuine regard for the majesty of those truths and those goals we hold for the common good.
