I want a Benchmark DAC1 ..just made Stereophile Class A list, JA loves his DAC1.Not that "stereophile class A" holds alot of weight or anything but I read JA's articles and I trust the guy...that still dont mean I will love it but it does mean the odds are at least reasonable good that I will like it.There are just so many options in how one deals with his digital music...its almost mind boggling really. If money were no object Id be buying 4 or 5 CD player and DACs and hook all them bastards up and listen for 15 hours a day 7 days a week...ah but no...I dont have alot of cash so I can to read articles on DACs until my eyes bleed...then I can scrap up my change and make a purchase.

A lot of the DAcs are now class A+ in stereophile. Class A is the second level at S'Phile now. Just FYI. The benchmark was class b, till the last list, and this list a lot of the stuff got bumped to class A+ and the B's to class A. -akhilesh
