Oh boy! how did you get so lucky, i also have one,when my dad bought one around 1971 it cost 1,630 pesos,thats around 30 dollars, wouldn't you say.Are all the speakers working? Mine has problems with back panel,you can no longer remove all screws because they are srewed tight to the cabinet, happy listening!

my name is Le Tuan Tu. I am living in VietnamI also have a pair of Coral BX-1201 too. I am a sailor so I have chances to travel here and there and some day when my ship calling ata port in Singapore I bough those speaker for about 35 USD. It still working very good (100W each)and in good looking condition (just a little bite dirty).Thank to your answer that I know it was made since 1971. It is 6 year older than my age. I will used it carefull so that it will last until i relay it to my son.If you need to see my pair of speaker, I will send its picture to you
