HELP? As a gift I was given a pair of Omega Centurion XV11 speakers. Is this a good gift or junk? Can anybody tell me what I have. I hope I hear good news because they really look and sound great.

If they sound great to you, then they are not junk. What is in these speakers (drivers, box design, crossovers?)-akhilesh

I agree with the other reply. If it works then it is good. It really shouldn't matter too much if this is junk or not. Its good to try other models. It good to gets gifts, I wouldn't complain if I got gifts like that. I would use them, test them and then I can form my own opinion about the speakers. It will help you decide if anything you get is junk or a good gift.Crystal
