Don't know anything about it, but it looks very nice. Not too bad at $250 for an 18mm xmax JBL driver.

It looks like a very solid 25hz from a 4 cubic foot box. Not too shabby for 20" cube. At 4ohms with a 250 watt plate amp or nice solid state amp I think it will keep up with the higher efficiency speakers. 20" cube would be a great stand for a 4Pi to help get them up off the floor.

Looks very nice. I'd like to hear that system. Let us know if you decide to build it.

I decided to pass on them. They are a great deal and I'm sure will be a great speaker.

Giskard from the JBL forum is going to put 'em together fer me. He also suggest a four foot sealed box. Then I can lose the bigass 2245's for awhile.I'm looking at the 500 watt plate amps from JBL to power them. I'll let you know how they do!!!

Maybe better having a couple stuffed in the woofer port holes, down at a safe distance from the floor.

The driver was used in a certain model Revel Sub.
