Subject: Dumb question of the day - what's the best....
Posted by wunhuanglo on Sat, 14 May 2005 21:20:41 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

value 15" driver for a two-way, horn over reflex (like a 4Pi)? Something from around 40Hz to maybe 1.2KHz?By value I mean something along the idea of 90% of a JBL 2226 for half the money (for example)?

Subject: Re: Dumb question of the day - what's the best....
Posted by Manualblock on Sat, 14 May 2005 21:53:41 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

The Holy Grail. Let me know if you find one. Lot of people like the Selenium WPU 15.Also consider all these drivers have their own unique sounds; so when you ask about 90% of a JBL, what you get won't sound like the JBL sound.

Subject: Re: Dumb question of the day - what's the best....
Posted by GarMan on Sun, 15 May 2005 02:29:40 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

A 2226 on the used market would give you 100% of the performance for half the money.

Subject: 2226 clone
Posted by Mike.e on Sun, 15 May 2005 08:33:29 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

the Paudio copy of it at paacoustic.com 'p150/2226'Mite sound similar and about half the cost.

Subject: Re: Dumb question of the day - what's the best....
Posted by Mike.e on Sun, 15 May 2005 08:34:45 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

haha good thought

Subject: Guess I probably said it wrong...
Posted by wunhuanglo on Sun, 15 May 2005 09:03:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

What I was trying to say, by citing JBL, was presenting an example of a possible comparison-or does everybody think the 2226 is where the bar is set?

Subject: Re: Guess I probably said it wrong...
Posted by Manualblock on Sun, 15 May 2005 12:45:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Well; since you ask.. JBL has a house sound. They are best for certain types of music.Other big drivers have their own sound; it's a matter of taste and there is only one way to find out; ya gotta listen to them.Everyone has an opinion on this; thats mine.And I am stickin' to it.You can read about drivers all you want; but at the end of the day you still have to hear them, whenever you listen to music.

Subject: Re: Dumb question of the day - what's the best....
Posted by GarMan on Mon, 16 May 2005 18:27:17 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

While I was being flip with my post, I was serious about the recommendation. I think used JBL drivers have the best performance and quality for the price.