Could someone tell me he pros and cons of horns verses arrays? I know they aren't mutually exclusive but I'm talking home use and I think a horn array would be too big for my home. Comparing an array of regular cone or ribbon drivers with a 2way or 3way horn speaker, what are the advantages and disadvantages of each?

This article has nothing to do with a comparison of a horn system and a line array system for use in playing music in a conventional small room(say 16 x 20) house listening situation.
