Woo, baby. Where's my wallet for the tip dollars?What was the coolest stuff? Who were the coolest guys?Same question in reverse -What was the lamest stuff? Who were the lamest guys?Might have to take this one to the Dungeon, but then again, the General forum moderator is in Italy and probably can't check our posts very often.

Using bikini clad babes to sell high end audio gear seems kind of lame to me, but after hearing the Gilmore speakers, well.....guess they weren't my cup of tea. It was boom city when I was in the room.The coolest guys were probably Charlie Hansen and the gang from Ayre. They were a riot to be around.....I'd vote them the most fun to party with.

From visiting with Charles Hanson in forum conversations, I think he's a pretty solid engineer. Good to know he's cool to be around too.Did you happen to take any photos while you were there?
