I forgot where I read it, but there was some talk before the long weekend of a meet in Cinni or Dayton this summer. Any development?

I would like to get together with others in the area. I had planned on having a few people over after the fourth, but I just have not had the time to plan. I know Zincman, Spkrman57 and Bill E. are in the area and could meet on short notice. Garman, where are you located? Congrats on the new saw. Sounds like you got a winner.....Colin

I'm up in Toronto. Too far to travel but interested in developments. Although my wife said there's a couple of scrapebooking stores in Cincinnati she won't mind travelling for. I have to take the passenger seat out of my car tonight to pick up the saw tomorrow. My little Subaru two door has not been a practical car for a homeowner but I refuse to give it up. I'm planning on building a 8x12 garden shed this weekend so I might get a chance to rip some plywood.

I know I replied to this message a day or so ago. I wonder why it's not showing up. Anyway.....Yeah, I just have not had the time or energy to put together a small gathering. I was hoping after the Fourth of July, but it just ain't happened. Cinci would be a long way to travel for a scrapbooking store, but, I'll tell you, there are a ton of them around. I have no idea what it is about this area, but that is one hot market. There is at least one scrapbooking party a week in my subdivision. If your wife needs me to pick up anything specific, let me know. Glad to hear you got your saw. I've been looking for a couple of years now and just cannot make up my mind. I really

Sometimes I click "Preview" instead of "Post," and then the post isn't stored. So now days, I always check to see that my post is displayed before I'm through. I go back to the main page, click "Refresh" and make sure it's online.
