Hi Everyone,I just remembered that our posting rules state that all for sale & auction items should be mentione din the Swap Meet forum. There is a post below for coral drivers (well-meant no doubt!) to which a couple of us, including myself have responded! While we'll let this one stay in our forum, the idea is to keep long-shelf life posts in here. Hence, for future reference, please post such posts in the swap meet forum.No offence intended to anyone at all, just upholding the rules for us all.thanx-akhilesh
