Stole these plans off of AA board there for your Trusonics 80FR which I think are the speakers you have. That's if you want to make sawdust again to see what they sound like. I posted the link here if you want to make a hard copy because there not sure how long the links going to stay up.Bill W.

Thanks Bill! I'll check out the website & post! At present, I have kind of decided my trusonics work best in the 90-3300 or so range. Beyond that, they have issues. Given their TS params, they seem to be fine in a BR or a pipe, or a horn. thanks-akhilesh
