Fred Ireson really digs those speakers. Interesting looking, aren't they? Like an oddly-shaped bandpass sort of.

Nice link Noidster! The KArlson cabinet has gotten very mixed reviews, with most people saying it's a bad design. I have never heard or measured one, so I can't comment, but I thought others may want to do a web search on karlson cabinets before bidding on the item. -akhilesh

Yeah, I have never heard the design but sure like the look. I posted the auction because I like the look, plus this guy's friend looks to have done a good job on them as well. Hey Wayne, any Floridians running your kit speakers that you know of?Noidster

Yeah I would guess just from looking at them a bit that they would seem to be a "not-so-perfect" design. But then again as I noted in response to Wayne, I have never heard them so I just cannot say here.Noidster

Wayne, please do have them contact me as son as they can. I am very interested in hearing their projects (your speaks), and possibly getting one or two of them to rescheduled DIY2005 Orlando event. You can just have them call me at ThreeTwoOne-SixSevenSix-NineSevenOneTwo or e-mailme at Noidster@Bellsouth.netThanks,Chuck
