A guy contacted me about finding an owner for them; I finally linked him up with a guy in Minn., who fell off the radar and never picked them up. (the guy is giving them away)So he's going to give them to me to play with, after which I may find another suitable home. They are a 4 way all ESL design; 3500.00 new in the one year they built them.MBB

Can't beat a deal like that - Can't beat that at all.Lots of micro-detail with the right planar setup. Kind of like an eerie little 3D effect in the area between the speakers. It's cool in its own way.Mark (footsurg) has a real killer home theater that uses planar speakers and tube amps. Good stuff.
