Hi I am looking at the ribbon tweeters for my next speaker project.There is so many out there. I have heard that the ribbons get a littlebright or tizzy some times. I want to beable to listen to music forhours with out getting the headache or the listening fagtie if I spelled it right. I hear the raven's are good but, they are redoingthere tweeters. How about aurum cantus tweeters? I heard they are pretty good but do not have the detail or the airieness of the ravens. Please help me. Thanks jm
