I've been looking around for a good deal on headphones, and the Sennheiser HD580 is available from several sources around $200.00. It has good rep for sound, but high impedence and power hungry. Is there a good amp, preferably tube, that mates well with Senn cans? DYI is OK.Thanks for advice!Bernie or try auralaudio.com though their headphone amp isn't tube but reviews are on homepage.

David Cope was saying he was familiar some real sweet little headphone amps. Check out his favorites here. Dave's a sponsor here too, so you might be intersted in seeing his website at Triode & Co.
