I need to replace the headphones I use with my MP3 players, and I was wondering if anybody here had any suggestions. I don't use ear buds, and the headphones I was using that came with my Sony personal CD player have finally broken.

Check out Sennheiser. They make good inexpensive headphones.

Go to sony.com or ebay and you'll find some really good cheap headphones for like 12 dollars. And they are of good quality.

Thanks for mentioning that. When I think of Sennheiser, I think of fairly expensive microphones.

Panasonic sell headphones as well you may want to check them out, they aren't expensive at all and they work well.

I usually find inexpensive ones at the local music stores. They usually work well but are less than $15.

are the Koss KSC75's. You can pick them up for less than $20 if you shop around and they sound very, very good! You can also do some mods to them to improve them a bit. Do a search over at www.headfi.com in the DIY section for all the info you'd ever need.

You can get a paid off panasonics for about 64 dollars on Amazon. Which isn't bad at all because alot of times they run almost 100 bucks.

Depending on the type of panasonics you are talking about. They can run all the way up to hundreds of dollars. But I'm sure not too many of us dab in that type of buying power.
