Anybody know where to get batteries for TransOceanics? I'd love to have a pack that would fit the TransOceanic and was rechargeable. If there isn't one available, seems like there may be a little cottage market packaging a series bank of rechargeable cells in a box that would fit the TransOceanic battery bay.So I guess I have two questions - 1. Is there a rechargeable battery already available for TransOceanics, and 2. If not, is there interest in having some built?

Hi Wayne! I've got a 600 like the one on your radio website. Here's a link to a guy who makes packs for the TO. I haven't bought one yet. It WOULD be great to be able to use the TO outside the house.
