Any of you listening to a Zenith TransOceanic radio? I'm listening to Coast to Coast talk radio on mine right now. You just gotta love these old radios!1949 Zenith TransOceanic Radio Model G500

I like old Zenith radios but I have an old Hallicrafters S38 that I like too. They didn't cost as much and were produced in large numbers. You can still find them in good condition in flea markets and estate sales.Jim

I don't have a Hallicrafters radio, so I'll have to find one to buy sometime. But I do have a pretty good little collection of antique tube radios, and I've restored them all so they all work well. I've also purchased plenty of NOS tubes, so I can maintain each of my radios for a long, long time.This morning I'm listening to a 1934 Montgomery Ward Airline Radio.1934 Montgomery Ward "Airline" Radio

My first "real" radio, the S-38! I even have an oil painting somewhere of me clutching it.-Dick
