Try AntiqueRadio.com. There's an RCA model 128 restored by John Hagman shown there, and he can probably point you in the right direction.

Hi: I too am wowking on a RCA 128. The best place for a set a schematics for the 128 is www.justradios.com. They will supply SHARP factory schematic which are more detailed than Riders and the price is about $5.00. Note that the 128 had several production changes where capacitors where added or completely removed. Before ordering schematics find out what set series you have.. Good luck!
