I have a Airline radio model 84k25r10a. It is a nightstand and looks like it has two drawers. You pull on the top handle and the radio rocks out and comes on at the same time. I just bought it because I am a sucker for old radios. Can anybody tell me about it.

Airline is the brand name of radios sold by Mongomery Ward. They used a variety of OEM chassis over the years, so your radio could have been made by just about anyone. I have two Montgomery Wards Airline radios, one from the 30's and the other from the 50's. Both are very nice and work great.
