

---

Subject: Airline

Posted by Al Coley on Wed, 31 Aug 2005 14:04:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I have a Airline radio model 84k25r10a. It is a nightstand and looks like it has two drawers. You pull on the top handle and the radio rocks out and comes on at the same time. I just bought it because I am a sucker for old radios. Can anybody tell me about it.

---

---

Subject: Re: Airline

Posted by Wayne Parham on Sat, 03 Sep 2005 06:11:16 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Airline is the brand name of radios sold by Montgomery Ward. They used a variety of OEM chassis over the years, so your radio could have been made by just about anyone. I have two Montgomery Wards Airline radios, one from the 30's and the other from the 50's. Both are very nice and work great.

My Radios

---