I'm looking for help to ID an old radio chassis I picked up at an estate sale. It's got the dial, which I thought would make it easy to ID, but have found out otherwise. The dial has the numbers "27225" near the top and the chassis is stamped "001035" on the back. Other than that, there are no other marks. Maybe someone can ID it from the photos.

I can't see the picture. Do I need to be logged in to see it? You might check with photobucket and see what you ned to do to make picture visible in blogs and forum posts.

Any idea what tubes were used in it? Sometimes I've identified old radios by finding a schematic that matched.
