I was at work today and found the cases and boxes to two Lafayette HT-10C 2-Way CB "Walkie Talkies". The radios were gone, but the leather cases were there and so was an earbud in a small leather case. I searched and could not find any information on this model. I was looking to sell the cases and earbud if they were worth anything. They look pretty old and the cases have some of the seams torn out, but the earbud and its case look like they were never used. Just curious if anybody had any info about them or what they might sell for on ebay or somewhere similar. Thanks for your help.
