I just got this as payment for some money owed to me, and have no idea if it along with the Optonica ST 4205 tuner is worth the $700 owed to me. Can anyone tell me anything about it. I have no intention of selling it but am curious if it is worth that.

About the quickest way to find out what it's worth might be to check E-bay auctions including those that are closed and see what those or similar items have sold for. Optonica has a following for sure but it's newer gear than what I'm familiar with.
