I am having problems with my recently acquired EICO ST 40 the 2nd channel is dead when I have the unit switched to stereo. When I select reverse the speaker in the 2nd channel works. When I select Mono both speakers work. I have a center speaker connected which works and is connected as indicated in the instructions. Any suggestions. DWB

When you select "reverse", does the balance control still work? If so, then the second channel is working and the problem is probably limited to the selector switch. If not, you may have a dead channel.
