Well, I managed to knock my beloved Marantz 5020 cassette deck off the shelf and bent one corner of the face plate. I straightened it but it looks bad. Does anyone have a good face plate or know where I can get one? Thanks, Chuck

That must've broken your heart. Hopefully, someone here will reply. If not, I'd monitor eBay and try to find a parts mule. It's amazing what you can find there - Someone may even list the faceplate alone. Fingers crossed!
