Hi, Does anyone Know anything about an Earth Sound Research Bass Travler BT-2000 amp? Trying to ID year of Manufacture, & learn a little about it's track record... My brother showed up w/this in his truck and said "merry Christmas!" I thought it must be blown if someone just gave it to him. I plugged it in and WOW!!!! Am playing through the matching cabinet Model RB-25 w/TWO 15's and an Ampeg B25B w/TWO MORE 15's.... These ALSO were given to me!!!! The amp sounds GREAT w/my Ovation Celebrity, since it can be kind of tinny, the bass amp really punches it up. It's a 2 channel, seperate volume controls.... I can't believe i've never seen or HEARD one of these!!! IT Sounds GREAT!!! Any info would be appreciated!! Frank Holdren

Earth is a company based in NY that pretty much stole the fender 100 watt design. I had a Earth bass amp in the 70's and now own a Plush tuck n roll which is made by the same company. They rock.
