Hmmmm, it does have 10 tubes. It not only has 10 tubes, it won't operate with just four, even the "right" four. Interesting.....Thermionic

I've never owned a tube amp, but I assume that there are companies still actively making compatible tubes for all brands of amps?This reminds me of a company that makes flashbulbs for the movie industry to use in period films. But the cost of those is a few dollars a flash in some cases.
