I'm looking to buy a new amp, for around $750 or less. I'm looking for something that can get pretty loud. I play Blues, Funk, and old-style Rock and Roll.

Take a look around and see if you can find a used Mesa F-50. It has a lot of volume and should be able to cover the styles of music that you're playing and then some.

well if you dont play too heavy and you want volume and great sound for a pretty high distortion look up either a line 6 spider III or try a marshall half stack
