So my friend's Fender Frontman 15 is turning on but making no noise, we took it apart and there's no obvious wiring problems, what else could be wrong?

well it could either be that the wire on the input jack in ur guitar could be broke to test it try a guitar you no works on other amps or try the the guitar on an amp that you no works if the seems to be nothin wrong with the amp youd think it was the guitar let me no if it works???

I know for a fact it's the amp not the guitar.
