I've done some write-ups on GPAF 2006, so I thought I'd point 'em out here. The posts about GPAF scrolled down off the page so some of you might not have noticed. I've been extremely busy, so the write-ups aren't as timely as I'd like but they're getting there. Should have the GPAF website updated in a few days, maybe a week or two. Note also the links from Jim Rivers, Akhilesh Bajaj and others - Jim took some great photos that can be found on his website. Others have commented as well, and there are links to all that good stuff in the thread below.
