You have mail...Where do you get such cool swag? Been looking at headphone purchase for a little bit. Almost as much for using them as for building a neat amp to drive them. These are 32 Ohm?regards,Douglas

Douglas; Excuse this if it is presumptous but I can't help following your post's. I believe you are under the impression that Colin was the one who offered you the Headphones. I believe The truth is Wayne ran the contest and they are a prize from him for posting on the site. I think it was a misunderstanding; I just felt you would want to know this.Deamon is Wayne it is his site.That's correct right guy's?

The link to the notice says Colin put up the piece. Please don't mistake my sarcasm for ingratitude. Dry perhaps, but intended to be recongnized a friendly sarcasm. Any misunderstanding created ought to deserve an apology from me. I did mean no disrespect, and am looking forward to sharing my development saga of the amp which will drive them.regards,Douglas

I've drooled over the amps at headwize.com for years, and never had the nerve to build one. This is the confidence I'm hoping to gain from this (and future) builds. Yes, I believe they are 32 ohm. See link to audioadvisor.com for full specs.....Colin

Evidently the mistake is mine; how I thought Wayne put that up is beyond me. Oh well, my bad. I did not detect any note of sarcasm; your posts are striaght up and real; as far as I am concerned. I am not sensitive anyway; like the old saying; call me what you want, just don't call me late for dinner.

Colin was our gracious benefactor on that and many other things. I'm beginning to wonder if the guy spends his every waking moment just doing kind things for people. The next prize is really nice too. Watch for announcements from daemon...

Hard to believe he's real. Let me see, a heavy guy in a red suit with a white beard and pipe? And a sliegh? Riendeers?How's your idea for the pre-amp coming; I know your'e busy but have you thought about it?
