Just received some "Mundorf" capacitors. They are well-known for their standard lines of capacitors, M-Cap (MKP), Tin-foil, and unique-made "Supreme" serie, now expanded with "Supreme Silver/Oil", and for the most demanded, "Supreme Silver/Gold/Oil". They have brand new capacitors for tube amps power supplies, "TubeCap" serie (polypropilene), and "M-Lytic HV" electrolytic caps. There are not too many distributors, especially for the whole program, but I have luck with their local distributors "Hornet Audio" (<http://www.hornet.hr/>), good service - reccomendable. The price for those 9 capacitors is about \$250 with tax. From L to R: -pair of 0,22 $\mu$ F/1200V "Supreme Silver/Oil" coupling caps-four 47 $\mu$ F/600V "TubeCaps"-pair of 47 $\mu$ F/400V "M-Caps"-one 200+200  $\mu$ F / 500 V "M-Lytic HV" capacitor P.S. Of course, I have no affiliation with "Mundorf" and "Hornet" companies other than being the customer. I posted this just for information to other Tube DIY-ers.
