Anyone have a pair of finished ART Arrays that lives near Iowa or Nebraska that would care to introduce me to them? I've built a couple of projects and am more than pleased with how they sound. Now after stumbling across the ART kit mention from parts express I see I'm going to have some issues. This stuff is very easy to get hooked on. Thanks,John

I assume the lack of responses tells you there are no ART Arrays near you. Sorry to hear that, but I'm glad from now on when I check this forum the most recent post won't be about butt joints:)

That's what I was afraid of. The relatively low kit price from PE makes them very interesting to me.

Anyway I have time, looks like I'll keep reading 'the' line array paper some more. JH
