Hey-Hey!!!,For sale, one Dynaco Mk.IV. It is clean, with some haze to the chrome, and has the cage. Tubed with everything save the rectifier. I got it without tubes, and have no GZ34 to spare.The 7199 is a Hammond labeled Sylvania. The power tubes are 1998 vintage Svetlana. From before the troubles with the logo, matched for gm and plate current, and used gently and sparingly since then. It is just one more amp than I can justify keeping. Price is $125 plus shipping, payable by USPS m-o. Tubes shipped by themselves, so figure an aditional $5 for the second box.cheers,DouglasPentode at netscape dot com

I have gotten a GZ34 for the amp. Fully tubed and operational.It had the coupling caps replaced, and the g2 bypass cap. 716P for the EL34's and an old stock PIO of .05 uF for the g2 bypass. I'll include a second set of the changed items with the amp.I had hoped to aviod dealing with ebay, but it really needs to go.cheers,Douglas
