I got home late after playing a dance and never thought about it. It's my wife's weekend to work (she works every other weekend). She arrived at work an hour early. Boy, was she mad!Dave

Oh yeah, I have already set my clock back an hour. I have ensure setting an alarm to set my clock because I want not to happen again what I had last year. I come one time very early to work, and no one at the office.I forget to set it back.
