http://www.stoetkit.nl/ and http://www.heartaudio.nl/I have been placed in charge of the Late Frank Stuppel collection of audio equipment(Unused) and including his own personally used equipment and some "Review" items from Dick Olsher(shipping labels still intact). See the attached Adobe PDF file for the list.Not looking to retail these item(s), just liquidate. Contact me and make me an offer. I don't know anymore than what the websites has given me. I do plan on listing most of these as complete sets, with cables, spare parts, and pairs on eBay. My user id is JN2300, I will update all of the photos on my website as soon as possible.Thanks!-Johnny

Dang, I didn't know Frank was gone! I had a bad experience with shipping on a sweet Nelson Audio amp once, but never replaced it.The Stoetkit Jr's sound real nice and I wish I had the extra fundage to get one.Good Luck

Oh my God! I hadn't heard that! My deepest condolences. I really liked Frank.I don't know what I can do to help, but please let me know. I am very familiar with the Stoetkit amps. I use the little Stoetkit Jr. as an entry level amplifier to show entry level speakers with. A guy can make a really great sounding system for under $2K with it.Jeez, I can't believe we're just now hearing about Frank's passing. It's quite a shock and I'm very sad to know he's gone.

Thanks for the concern. I will pass it along.I am currently somewhat a caretaker for the last of the FSAudioWeb Inventory, I will auction these on eBay for close to 40-50% off retail.Proceeds will go directly to his family.
