I've used ear buds before, but they were very uncomfortable due to the helmet pushing them into my ears. Seems like there were some helmet manufacturers that had built in speakers?

Sometimes, I wish I could listen to the radio while riding. But most the time, naaah.

Same here. I ride for the free-feeling I get, seeing the sights and just for the joy of riding. Why mess it up with music? I can listen to that all I want to at home and in the car.Dave

I guess in a way you have a point but at the same most people ride for exercise but don't you think that while you exercise, you would want to have some type of entertainment.
