I tried to describe the woofer baffle in a previous post, showed it to Wayne and he insisted I get it to all of you, so here it is.

The Cambridge gives the lie to multi-thousand$$$ decks. With every upgrade of pre-amp, amps and cables, something once hidden is revealed. I'm now convinced that, jitter and distortions under control, ones is ones and bits is bits. The Foreplay is half torn apart and 2A3 Paramours are on the way.That's why I'm listening to the Outlaw A/V receiver on the shelf. And it sounds damned fine! For Transistors!

Till's 4pi's look great. Wayne, I think you've seen my LR, and now you just had to post the pics of Till's examples. When my wife asks why I need another pair of speakers, I'm giving her your email so she can chew your ears instead of mine. Seriously, this forum is inspiring, and if I ever get caught up enough... Thanks again Wayne, and congrats on a great job to Till. Sam

Before approaching your wife with the idea of a new pair of speakers, give her something from Frederick's of Hollywood or Victoria's Secrets. Turn this into a win-win situation. :-)
