Is anyone able to speak to the existence of a driver that can be used to reproduce the near distortion free bass of the 2245. I currently have one JBL 2245 for my home theatre and would like to add two more. I have not been able to find another driver that delivers the clean low end. Thanks. John Gray

The 2245 is one of my favorite woofers too. I expect there are still a few left from the JBL tent sale, so ask around.
