Hey, does anybody have experience with the PSD 2001? I have lots with the 2002's, but i need a compression driver that'll go down to 1 kHz without getting stressed at moderate listening levels. It's shown as going down to 1 kHz, but it also seems nearly identical to the 2002. So I'm just wondering how it sounds and if it can go that low without problems.I want to cross it third order with a Kappa 18A.ThanksAdam

Assuming you're actually talking about the Eminence MD2001, that's one of the compression drivers I used until early last year. The link below lists several posts about it.
