Remember when Mike Baker's "Midwest Audiofest" event was just a little get together he was planning? Now, it's less than a month away and I understand that the place is nearly booked up. Mike has done an immense effort bringing this all together, starting with a hope and a big place to put it all together in. Good job Mike!

Thank you for the kind words. As for benefit to me, I am still operating this as a not-for-profit venture. In fact, if we made any money I considered rebating the room fees as possible.....Anyway, hopefully it is a good time for everyone, and the event is worth repeating.MBB
