Well Freddy,I don`t play in a band, but i work with bands. I did drive-inn shows for a while. together with a friend we have both are own dj and we play in bars and other party`s.Now we need a new chalange, so we decided to go and amplifie bands, together with providing in the total show.Where with 4 people, each with there own set. So we have a very big set together. 2 of the guys have some basic lights, and one of them programs proffesional light, and delivers it.Furtheron we have 1 guy that stands behind the mixer.I have many contacts with people in bands and so i`m always trying to find new gigs.Erik
