If I purchase a pair of Theatre 4 speaker kits, does Pi provide an option to sell precut-predrilled, hardware included, put it together yourself cabinet kits? (I skimmed but did not read every word of their web page.)Thank you,

We make completed loudspeakers and kits. Kits are essentially everything but the cabinet, and so no wood is provided. The wood panels are physically large and somewhat heavy, so shipping a kit with wood included would increase the cost of shipping to the same, or nearly the same, as the cost of shipping a finished loudspeaker. For the difference in cost, you can buy the finest wood and hire the best cabinetmaker in your area. So that's the idea behind the kits.
