If someone (me for example) wanted to discuss mixers, mixing boards, their performance and recommendations, which forum - if any - should I use?-Dick

I'd start a thread in the ProAudio forum. That's the forum for prosound equipment (other than speakers, which have their own forum dedicated to them). If you already have a mixer or processor and want to know how to set it up, talk about that in the ProSound forum. Prosound speakers, technologies and placement is discussed in the ProSpeakers forum.
