hi guys, oscar from south africa here. i am planning to start building my theatre4pis very soon. the problem is i am not 100% sure of the correct type of insultation. most of the hardware stores here wants to sel me the pink roof insulation (aerolyte) the salespeople have no clue what R13 and R11 means. It is also difficult for me to look it up on our local search engines as our local currency is the Rand (R) and anything can thirteen and eleven rands. I have also tried some companies that manufacture these products. I attach a file one of them sent me. could someone please identify a similar product and let me know. Thanks
