Sheri gets my rave too. She runs the AudioRoundTable.com server and is a sponsor and our resident artist; Check out the rest of her work at www.Visions-of-Infinedi.com.www.Visions-of-Infinedi.comBe sure to look at the art at www.FineArtColony.com too. I think there's a link on the Visions website, but Sheri treats her art business and her web development/hosting business as two separate but overlapping entities.

For a long time, the two were one and the same. But she says that she plans to split them out, so they may be separate websites in the near future. Either way, look around on the websites and check out the art. The prices are reasonable (read that dirt cheap). You can purchase originals or get framed prints on canvas, which look just like originals. Lots of options for really fine art to decorate your home or business.
