I just ordered a pair of 2 PI kits and I am trying to decide if I should use plywood or MDF to build them out of. I'm not really clear on why I should use MDF, only thing I can think of is that it is denser. If any of you builders or Wayne could help me out with this I would greatly appreciate it. Thanks

Search the archives for posts about "MDF" and "plywood." There are pages and pages of discussions on wood stock - So many that search results don't show them all.
